Lafayette

Since a life-time includes such a number of things—Then here's to the new year, whatever it bring.

The school's Xmas entertainment of last Thursday evening brought forth another of those old-fashioned packed houses, parents and friends flocking in from highways and byways to listen to and enjoy the excellent program given by the children of Lafayette township. And indeed it was a splendid success, teachers and pupils alike deserving great praise for their undertaking.

The Xmas entertainment given by the M. E. Sunday school on Friday evening proved to be very enjoyable and in spite of the dreary rain outside, the delight of the children over their tree and treat, combined with the lovely decorations to make a real Christmas atmosphere within.

Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Waltz are making an extended visit among friends and relatives in Michigan and also attended the funeral of Mrs. Waltz's uncle.

Mrs. Merritt Jones will entertain on New Year's day, her guests being her sons, C. E. and C. M. Jones and their wives and her two grandsons, Paul and Ted.

Arvilla Shetler came from Wadsworth Monday to spend the holiday week with her parents.

Mrs. A. T. Lance is in Sterling, being called there a week ago by the critical illness of her daughter, Mrs. Zoe Henry.

Mrs. Alfred Muir had as her guests, Saturday, her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Buchel of Lodi.

Wm. Gardner has been quite sick the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Curtiss and family were present at a gathering of the Curtiss family in LaGrange on Christmas day.

Blake Derhammer and family spent Xmas with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Derhammer of the Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Snyder are to be entertained by the Threshers' club on Friday night of this week.

Henry Hickling of South-end is assisting Dr. Shaw of Medina in erecting his new house.

Mrs. Rhoda McDowell with her son George left Saturday to spend the holidays at the home of her daughter and family in Michigan.

Mrs. C. E. Cowling is gradually gaining strength and was allowed to sit up a little while Sunday, for the first time since her illness.

Gerald Ellis of Valley City is spending a few days with his brother Donald at the Howard Adam's home.

John McElroy has not been able to leave the house since a slight paralytic stroke which he suffered a couple of weeks ago has affected his general good health.

Miss Mary Wood of Geneva is a holiday week guest at the home of Mrs. Wm. Barnhart.

Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Young of Medina entertained a house full of relatives for Xmas dinner among whom were Mrs. A. Culler, the Ed. Shetler family and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Huntley and daughter Marian of Wadsworth.

We extend congratulations to the new bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Eaken, the marriage taking place Saturday, Dec. 24. Mrs. Eaken was formerly Miss Velva Wightman, daughter of Mrs. Otto Wightman of this place, and the groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. George Eaken.

Mrs. Geo. Eaken was called to the OPENING OF THE WINTER TERM AT THE OBERLIN BUSINESS COLLEGE.

The Fall Term at the Oberlin Business College closed last Tuesday and the Winter Term will open January 3d 1922. New classes will be formed in all branches and a number of new students will enter then. This school has started thousands of young men and women on the road to success, was the first business college in Ohio to be placed upon the recognized list of Ohio colleges by the State School Department and is now regarded as one of the most thorough schools of business in the entire country.—Adv.

home of her daughter, Mrs. Harry Welday of the Lake, last week, to assist in caring for Mr. Welday, who was very low with pleuro-pneumonia. Miss Mabel Eaken is with her sister this week and at this writing Mr. Welday's condition remains unchanged.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Nugent and sons spent Xmas at the home of Will Kerans' in Cleveland.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Clay of Lodi were guests over Saturday evening at the Chas. Eaken home and on Sunday they all, in company with Mr. and Mrs. Milton Ruder, ate Xmas dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Orta Hoff of Creston.

Doris Nugent has been quite sick the past week.

Mallet Creek

The Christmas entertainment given at the town hall on Thursday evening of last week by the school children of York township was strictly the first thing that has been in our little burg for a number of years, and it seemed good to see the old hall packed to its capacity to hear the fine program that was put on. The "Nativity" pageant, that opened the evening's program was realistic in the extreme, the great guiding star of Bethlehem doing its part well, by continually twinkling. The musical stunts and playlets which followed together with the pageant, showed the kind of talent to be found in York township, and it also showed perfectly plain that we have teachers that know how to develop the talent. It takes tact not formed under every head of hair to take little tots in the first and second grades and make real actors of them in a few short months; and while we were listening to the musical numbers, especially those put on by such little fellows, we could not help but wonder what a community would be without music and a lot of dear little children to show us the beauty nestling in every note. And we also realized that this musical treat never could have happened had it not been for the work of those efficient musical directors and trainers, Mr. Burns and Miss McKee; and when the conclusion of the program was finally reached the writer found himself hungry, yes, real hungry, (for more). But our pleasure was not to end there for it was a real pleasure to see the eyes of our jolly little entertainers sparkle in expectation as they now awaited the coming of Santa Claus, and the distribution of presents they knew was in store for them; and the children's eyes were not the only ones that sparkled, for there were a lot of proud fathers and mothers there, yes, proud of their children, and they had a right to be. The distribution of the presents ended an evening of enjoyment long to be remembered.

Mrs. Frank Redman of Steubenville, O., is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alva Coleman for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Levi Stone entertained their children and families on Christmas day, also Roy Stone of Willard.

Mrs. Floyd (Mary) Nettleton, who is at Fairview hospital in Cleveland, is getting along alright. Her brothers, Corwin and Ralph Parker, were down last Sunday to see her.

Mr. Kent Stone of Akron is spending a week at his uncle's, Levi Stone's.

M. E. Branch and wife at their Medina home entertained 38 of their relatives at Christmas dinner, mostly of York and vicinity, as follows: Glen Weisz and family, C. B. Branch and wife, Henry Branch and family, F. H. Benedict and family, C. G. Bonley and family, Chas. Dickerman and family, C. P. Dickerman and family, Harold West and wife, Harold Branch and family of Boneta, and Ed. Gower and family of Akron.

Helen Starr, who has been teaching in Elyria, has been obliged to resign her position on account of a hurt she received early in the fall in the school room, which has given her more or less trouble for some time, and the doctor advised that she resign and rest up. She will go south with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Starr, who will go to Florida in the near future to spend the balance of the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Seeley entertained their children and grandchildren at Christmas dinner: Mr. and Mrs. Art Burnham and family of Medina, Mrs. Verra King, husband and daughter of Akron, Mrs. Nina Spooner and daughter Lucile and Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Seeley and daughter.

Glen Weisz entertained his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Weiss, and daughter Alta of Medina, Mr. and Mrs. Holmes of Litchfield and brother Ivan, on Christmas.

Julius Wolf, over on Wolf road, who is the proud possessor of one dry gas well drilled in some time ago, has another well drilled in that's not so awfully dry he says. It's close to a two-million well. This good luck so affects Julius that he now offers for sale all the old oil lamps, lanterns and candle sticks he has in stock at bargain prices.

Ned Alexander and wife of Lafayette and Gail Alexander and family spent Xmas with their mother and sister, Mrs. J. L. Alexander and her daughter Nellie.

Prof. Wood and wife are spending their holiday vacation at their old home in Athens, O.

S. A. Dutt and family and Stanley Dutt and wife of Akron spent Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. Louie Lance.

Richard Leister, over in Abbeyville does not believe in a dry country. He even took a bath in 10 gallons of milk last Monday. It was new milk and of course was very refreshing.

Will Reichel wasn't overlooked at the Christmas tree, for he was right in the swim with the other little folk. His box contained a sweet potato for himself, and an all-day sucker for his best girl. Sweet potato, sweet candy, and sweet girl, that's going some, Will.

John Indoe of Medina and G. A. Heilman and family of West Mallet Creek, motored to Cleveland and spent Christmas with their old friend L. H. Foot.

Mrs. J. H. McNatt and her son Robert and Charles Clay and wife of Lodi, attended Mrs. McNatt's mother's funeral at Bloomville, O., last week.

Lark Garret and family of Madison, O., enjoyed Christmas at home with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Garret.

Geo. Starr, wife and daughter Helen and Earl Pierce and wife were Christmas guests at Carl Starr's.

E. E. Van Ornum and wife spent Christmas at Forest Hunt's in West Park.

Corwin and Ralph Parker are spending a few days with their uncle and aunt, and cousins, Will Bellins and family, in the city of "Pekin" Hinkley, O.

Mrs. Fahrion had all her children home with her for an old-fashioned Christmas dinner.

The gas well on the C. W. Sloan place was shot the other day and let the salt water in and spoiled what little gas they had in the first place; so it will have to be put down in the list of dry holes.

L. W. Battles and sister Ada spent Christmas with their sister, Mrs. Cory Carlton and family of Chatham.

The annual meeting of the York Community church will be held at H. A. Bishop's next week Wednesday, Jan. 4.

N. W. Geisneger and family had for their Christmas guests, W. J. Wall and wife of Medina; Orlan Baughman and wife of Lakewood were to have been part of the crowd but failed to appear, on account of Mrs. Baughman not feeling well enough to make the trip.

E. J. Burer and family of Elyria are visiting his mother, Mrs. Susan Burer, for a few days.

Frank Welton of Wooster Experiment station and his brother, Grant Welton and family of Remson Corners, spent Christmas at their father's M. E. Foskett's.

Mr. Milton Brown, who was a boarder in the M. E. Foskett home in Mallet Creek for over a year while filling an office position at the Root factory but more recently of Medina, suddenly jumped into the matrimonial business last Saturday morning by taking unto himself a wife in the person of Miss Jessie Wynne of Marietta, O. Mr. and Mrs. Brown were schoolmates in that city. The happy pair are already at home on South Jefferson, Medina. Congratulations, Brownie.

Well, Well, it beats all how popular it is getting to be among the young bloods around Mallet Creek to go out to see their best girl and go home so late and drive so carelessly, that they get stuck in the mud and have to rouse the whole neighborhood to get pulled out. This time it's Alvin Wolf, down on Wolf road, who has been rather Brunswickly inclined for some time. On Monday morning, promptly at 1:30 o'clock (regular time), he left (Mariontown) (Perkinsville), Brunswick, O., and his Elizabeth went well until he struck a big mud hole in front of R. E. Leister's, then the fun began. He couldn't back or go ahead, but the big hubbub he made brought neighbors to his assistance, and with their help, together with that of Mr. Leister and his team, and the watch dog, he was finally pushed or pulled out and sent on his way rejoicing. He didn't have time to thank the life-saving crew for he wanted to get home for breakfast.

Ed. Comisky had an attack of jaundice but has now recovered. Roy Comisky and wife of Mansfield are with his mother, Mrs. I. J. Betz, for a few days.

Miss Mary Sanders was home from Burbank over Christmas.
